Places to visit from Ludlow

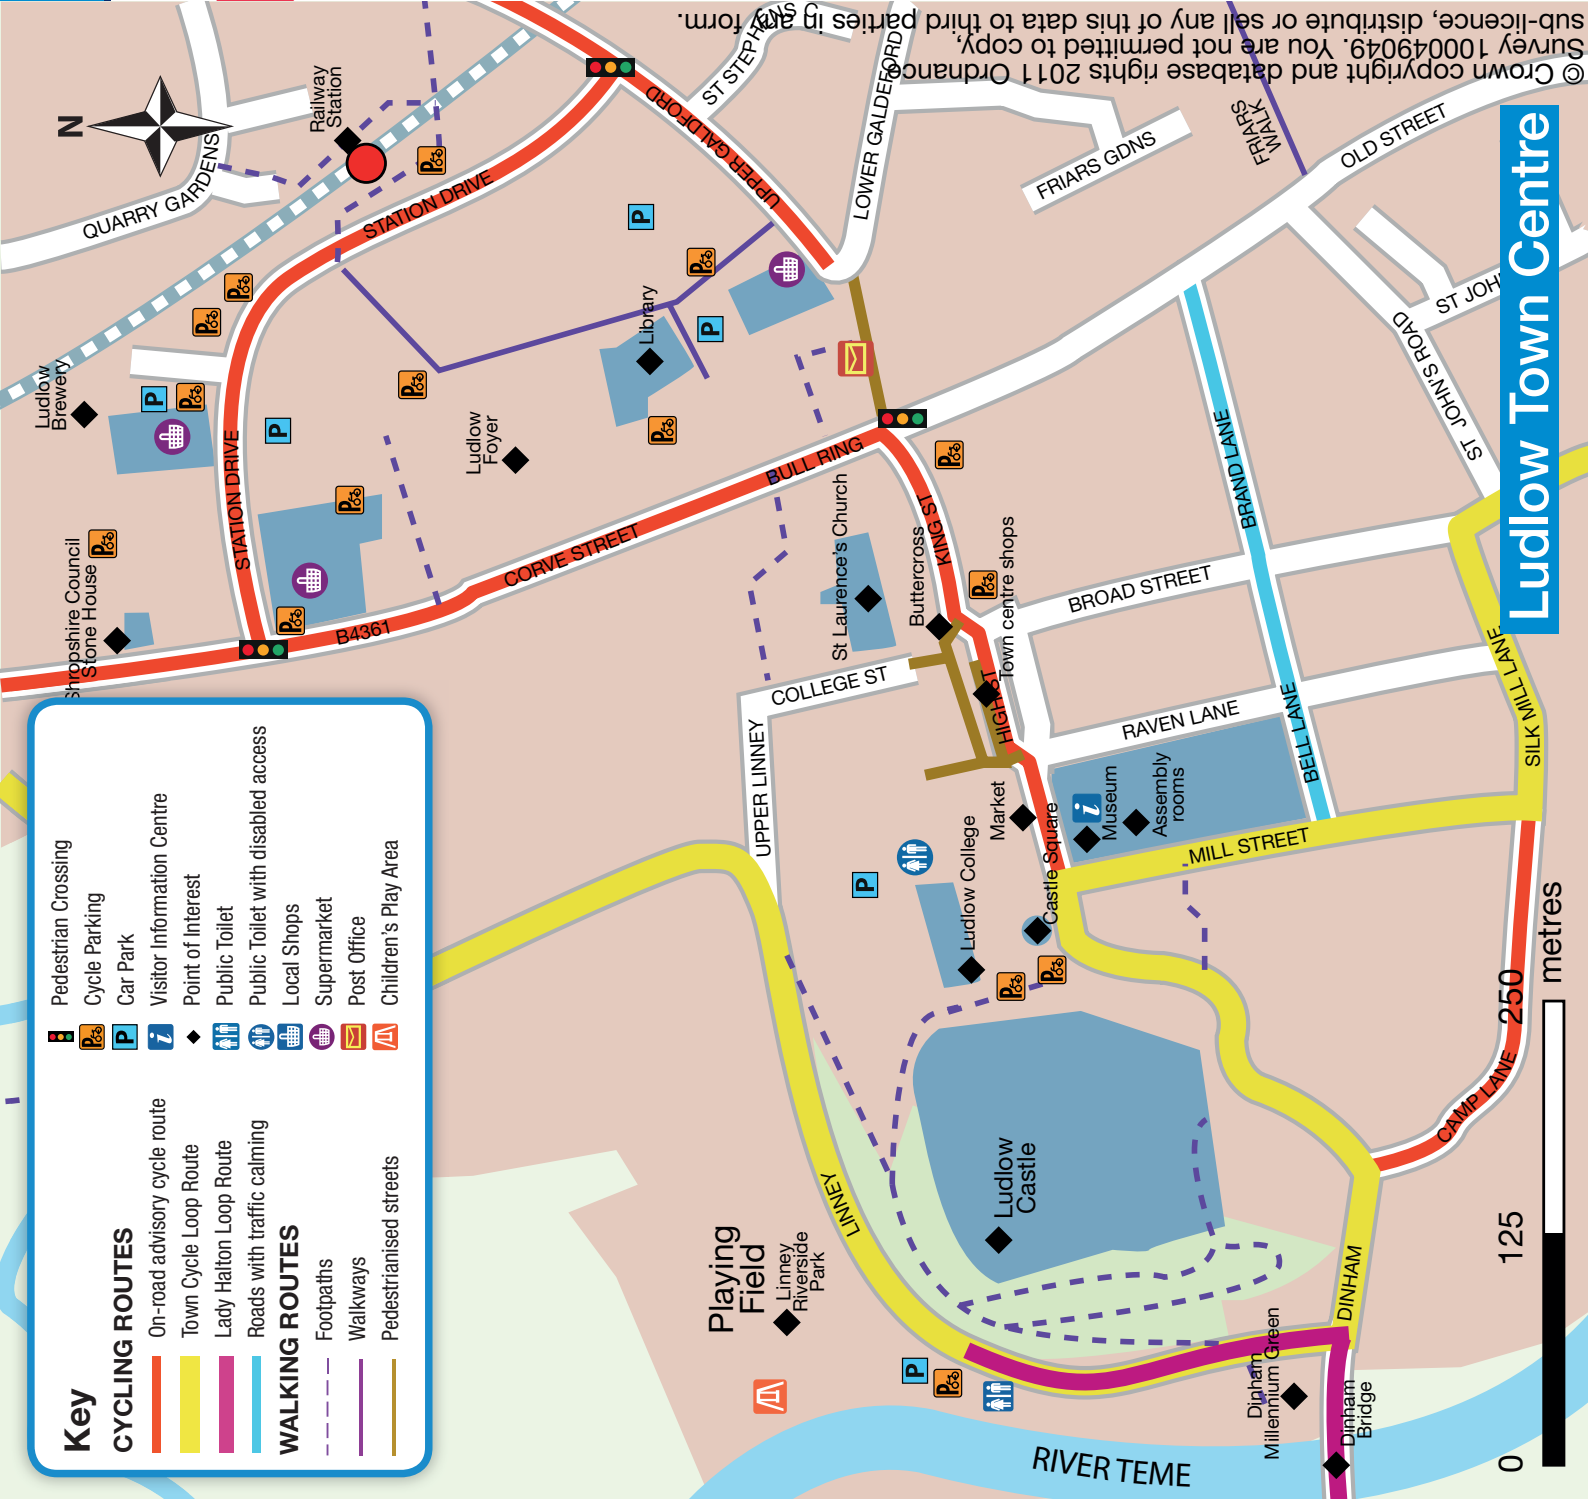

Ludlow is surrounded by beautiful countryside including hills that give you great views back over the town and the lovely Mortimer forest. Walk down to Millennium Green or Linney Riverside Park and have a paddle in the river? Or, if you fancy a cycle ride, try the family friendly Lady Halton Loop (shown on this leaflet) or one of four longer rides in our Ludlow Cycle Rides leaflet.

National cycle route 44 runs from Shrewsbury to Leominster via Ludlow and is part of the award-winning National Cycle Network, a network of attractive places to cycle throughout the UK.

Your guide to getting around Ludlow

Discover Ludlow on foot or by bicycle
This leaflet contains maps showing walking and cycling routes; roads graded by their suitability for cycling; and other useful information including where to find cycle parking and pedestrian crossings.

Why not check out how to get to the shops, work or school by bike or on foot? Or you could try doing a daily ride or walk as part of your exercise routine or to relax after work.

To plan a cycle journey in Ludlow you can also use Transport Direct's cycle journey planner:
www.bit.ly/cycle-journey-planner

The journey planner lets you search for the quickest, quietest or most recreational route and provides route directions and maps.
